

VICE ADMIRAL CERVERA DEAD

News Received With Great Regret in America—Tribute of Rear Admiral Evans.

"He was one of the bravest and most courteous men I have ever met, and if we ever have another war, I hope that our enemies may be of a similar type."—Rear Admiral Robley D. Evans.

Puerto Rico, April 3.—Vice Admiral Pascual Cervera, who commanded the Spanish fleet in the battle of Santiago, Cuba, died here this afternoon.

Portsmouth, N. H., April 3.—News of the death of Vice Admiral Cervera was received with great regret in Portsmouth because of his bravery and courtesy.

He and other Spanish prisoners of war arrived in Portsmouth in July, 1898.

After remaining a week, they were sent to Annapolis, where they were quartered until arrangements were made to send them to Spain at the close of the war.

The admiral returned to Portsmouth early in September and rejoined the sailors who had been held there. All the Spaniards, except fifteen who had died in camp and were buried on Seaview island, sailed for Spain April 12. On the eve of his departure for Spain, Vice Admiral Cervera thanked the Americans for their kindness in the following letter:

Portsmouth, N. H., Sept. 11, 1898.

To the President of the Associated Press:

"My Dear Sir—Tomorrow I sail for Spain, and I wish to say to you, as the greatest news association in the United States, that I say with a heart full of gratitude for the sympathy shown me by the people of this country.

"My farewell, then, takes with it every assurance that the memory of this sympathy I shall warmly, actively, conserve during the rest of my life. I take advantage during the occasion to subscribe myself as your faithful and obedient servant, who kisses your hand."

(Signed) "PASCUAL CERVERA."

Tribute of Schley.

Washington, April 3.—Rear Admiral Winfield Scott Schley, U. S. N., retired, who participated in the capture of Admiral Cervera and his fleet, tonight appeared deeply touched when told of the admiral's death.

"Well, I am sorry to hear that Cervera is dead," said Admiral Schley. "He was a grand old man, a brave and gallant naval officer, and his death costs Spain one of her most heroic sailors. He was a man of great courage and fortitude."

BOY'S LIFE CRUSHED OUT.

Nephew, April 2.—The news reached Nephew that Wallace, the 12-year-old son of E. W. Peterson of Levan, was instantly crushed to death by the traction engine of the Levan plaster mill. The boy was riding to his home on the engine, which makes daily trips to Juab with plaster paris. As he was getting off he fell in front of the large wheels and before the engineer noticed the accident two wheels had passed over the boy. Death was instantaneous.

Receipt That Cures Weak Men—Free

Send Name and Address Today—You Can Have It Free and Be Strong and Vigorous.

I have in my possession a prescription for nervous debility, lack of vigor, weakened manhood, failing memory and lame backs, brought on by excess, untimely drains or the follies of youth, that has cured so many worn and nervous men right in their own homes—without any additional help or medicine—that I think every man who wishes to regain his manly power and virility, quickly and quietly, should have a copy. So, I have determined to send a copy of the prescription, free of charge, in a plain, ordinary sealed envelope, to any man who will write me for it.

This prescription comes from a physician who has made a special study of men, and I am convinced it is the surest, acting combination for the cure of deficient manhood and vigor—failure ever put together.

I think I owe it to my fellow man to send him a copy in confidence, so that any man, anywhere who is weak, and discouraged with repeated failures may stop dragging himself with harmful patent medicines, secure what I believe is the quickest-acting, restorative, rebuilding, SPOT-TOUCHING remedy ever devised, and so cure himself at home quickly and quietly. Just drop me a line like this: "Dr. A. E. Robinson, 434 Luck Bldg., Detroit, Mich., and I will send you a copy of this splendid receipt, in a plain, ordinary sealed envelope, free of charge."

Miss Alice Condon, with Arthur Cunningham in "The Kerry Gow," at the Colonial theatre.

This evening the special engagement of Arthur Cunningham will be inaugurated at the Colonial theatre with a picturesque production of Joseph Murphy's popular play, "The Kerry Gow." There is no one on the American stage today better suited for this style of work than Mr. Cunningham. Joseph Murphy, with his stage director, W. T. Sheehan, came to the coast especially to assist in the production, and Mr. Murphy's prediction of the brilliant success for California's favorite singer has been fully justified by the great reception accorded Mr. Cunningham upon his initial performance in San Francisco.

Mr. Murphy played "The Kerry Gow" for thirty-two consecutive years and saw in Mr. Cunningham a worthy successor.

"The Kerry Gow" enjoys two distinctions. It is the only play ever produced in this country which has won out its twenty-eight years of copyright in continuous service, and it has been stolen bodily and in part more times than any other production ever staged.

It is a question of which claim Joseph Murphy is most proud.

REAL ESTATE REVIEW

If the business of the past week in realty lines can be taken as a criterion, the boom predicted for Salt Lake real estate early in the year is now developing. Several large deals have gone through, many new buildings have been begun, and plans are now under way for more than $1,000,000 to be expended in new structures and improvements.

Not since 1907 have the real estate offices been as crowded with prospective purchasers as during the past week. Inquiries for residences and lots on which to erect homes have been the rule, and from the number of sales in this class it would appear that the coming summer will see many of Salt Lake's bare spots filled in with new residences.

The largest realty deal of the week was closed by Tuttle Brothers, when they sold 248 feet of frontage on Brigham street and 145 feet on a street to the Covey street, to the Salt Lake Hardware company, who will commence almost immediately to erect a magnificent seven-story apartment house on the property.

The Newhouse hotel project, involving the expenditure of $1,200,000 for the erection of a mammoth fifteen-story hotel has also come to a head during the past week, and the success of the enterprise is assured.

G. S. Holmes has begun the construction of a garage and hotel building on State street between Second and Third South streets. Within the next two weeks, or as soon as the present tenants can be moved, and the buildings now occupying the site razed to the ground, he will begin the erection of another hotel at State and Second South streets. This is considered an ideal location for the purpose, and the five-story building will be completed about the time of the G. A. R. encampment.

Work on the Newhouse and Boston buildings, Vermont, Administration building of the L. D. S. L. D. S. business college gymnasium, the enormous warehouse of the Salt Lake Hardware company, the Salt block and the McCrystal buildings is being rushed forward as rapidly as possible, and miles labor troubles should develop, all will be completed well within the time limit specified in the contracts.

The McIntyre-McCormick building, after divers troubles, is at last under way again, and A. & J. McDonald announce that they will have their portion of it work, the concrete construction, finished about September 1.

During the coming week work on the Cannon and Meeks & McCartney subdivisions on East Eleventh South in the vicinity of Westminster college will be hurried forward as fast as possible, and

MARTIN LANNAN IS DEAD

Well Known Resident of Salt Lake Succumbs After Long Illness in Los Angeles.

Word was received in Salt Lake yesterday of the death of Martin Lannan in Los Angeles. Death was due to a complication of diseases. His brother, P. H. Lannan, was at the bedside when the end came.

Martin Lannan was about 65 years of age at the time of his death. He conducted in this city for many years a butcher shop on Main street near the present location of the Utah Savings & Trust company's building. He was well known and noted for his generosity and charitable deeds.

At his own request the funeral will be held in Los Angeles Monday.

NEW COMIC OPERA.

One Is Being Written by Brian S. Young and J. J. McClellan.

What promises to be an entertaining comic opera is being written by Brian S. Young and J. J. McClellan. They are combining their efforts on the piece and expect the opera to be ready for its first performance at the Salt Lake theatre early in September. Mr. Young has completed the libretto and Mr. McClellan will finish with the score during the month of June. Professor McClellan is devoting much time to the writing of the music.

The plot of the piece deals with an American tourist traveling in Egypt, accompanied by an Arab guide who cannot speak English. The American is standing in front of the Sphinx bawling his loneliness and longs to hear the voice of his guide. The Sphinx tries to console the tourist, and out of the mouth of the silent guardian of the desert come a bevy of pretty girls. The second scene of the play is in the Temple of Girzech.

There are promised some beautiful scenic effects and the music will be catchy and taking. Mr. Young says the first production will be in Salt Lake, and states he has been assured that the opera will be seen on several eastern stages.

FATAL SHOOTING ABOUT ACCOUNT

John Contos, Prominent Greek of Ogden, Killed by Fellow Countryman.

(Special to The Herald.)

Ogden, April 4.—John Contos, the most prominent Greek in Ogden, was shot through the heart by Nick Vacos, another Greek, in his store, the Palace bakery, at 11:45 o'clock last night. The slayer, after he had committed the act, dashed out of the store with the gun in his hand, and ran down Twenty-fifth street to Grant, evidently prepared to shoot anyone who tried to stop him. He ran south on Grant, doubled back to Washington and was last seen turning down Twenty-third street toward the railroad yards.

At last reports he had not been arrested. The motive for the shooting was that yesterday morning Contos got out an attachment and closed Vacos' place of business. Vacos had been running the California fruit stand at the corner of Lincoln and Twenty-fifth street. Contos had been furnishing him with fruit and other supplies until the account amounted to $250. Vacos was gambling and not paying his bills and Contos decided to close him up.

Contos was in his store, at 128 Twenty-fifth street, when Vacos entered and asked him to let his account run for a little while longer, promising that he would square matters. Contos said "No"; that he was getting farther behind all the time, and that he could not carry him any longer. This conversation was in Greek.

Without further words, Vacos pulled a .44-caliber Colt automatic pistol and shot Contos where he stood, behind his counter, and then turned and fled. The ball, which was a steel one, entered the left breast, ranged downward, and passed out at the back, falling upon the floor. The alarm was given by a number who heard the shot and saw the slayer run down the street. Dr. H. B. Forbes was called in, but Contos was dead before he arrived.

The whole police force and sheriff's force turned out, but Vacos eluded them all and it is thought he caught the Oregon Short Line train for the north, which left Ogden at 12:30 o'clock.

Vacos is about 35 years old, weighs 145 pounds, is 5 feet 10 inches tall, wore a dark blue serge suit. He has a long, sharp face, and is very dark. He had very little money. He had a room in the Fashion rooming house, conducted by Belle London. John Contos was 48 years old and had a family. He was prominent in business and had for years been a leader among the Greeks, acting as interpreter for them and furnishing bail for many when they got into trouble. He was warned yesterday morning to be on his guard, as Vacos had made threats that if he closed him up he would get even with him.

On the order of Judge Murphy a coroner's jury was empaneled, composed of James F. Burton, Le Roy Eccles and C. E. Allen. This jury viewed the body of Contos, as it still lay in his store in a pool of blood. An inquest will be held tomorrow. After this, the body of Contos was taken to Larkin's undertaking establishment, to be prepared for burial.

Says Many Men Need Prescription

It is claimed to be a blessing to those who are physically impaired; gloomy, despondent, nervous and with trembling of the limbs, dizziness, heart palpitation, cold hands and feet, insomnia, without cause, timidity in venturing and general inability to act rationally. By preparing the treatment at home secretly, no one need know of another's trouble.

If the reader decides to try it, get three ounces of ordinary syrup of sassaaparilla compound, and one ounce compound fluid compound, and let stand two hours; then get one ounce compound essence cardiol and one ounce tincture cadomene compound (not cardamom); mix all together, shake well and take a teaspoonful after each meal and one at night.

CITY'S REVENUE FROM POLICE COURT FINES

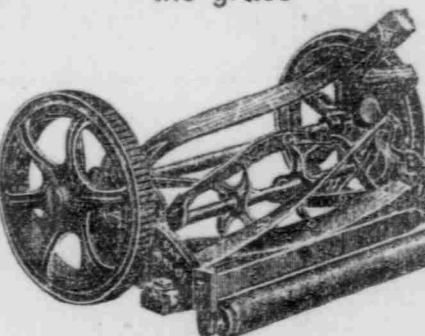

The receipts of the city from fines and forfeitures in the police court during March amounted to $54.10, with no state cases heard. Fines were $33.10 and forfeitures $21. Drunkenness brought in $13.95 to the city funds and battery fines $11.65. A better revenue is coming from the auto license, for $184 were paid in fines. There also appears $50 for violation of the ordinance governing the theatres and $82 for violations of the street ordinances.
